Christopher joined Chambers in September 2009.

After receiving First Class Honours in History from University College, Oxford, Christopher worked for two years in both the Westminster and European Parliaments as a researcher. The following year, in addition to obtaining a Graduate Diploma in law with Distinction, Christopher worked with the Innocence Project on a double murder appeal. He then completed the Bar Vocational School at City Law School, receiving an 'Outstanding', and coming third in the year.

Christopher is an accomplished and experienced public speaker. In addition to participating in numerous debates and moots, Christopher was chosen to represent Lincoln's Inn at the Cambridge Debating Competition and City Law School in the National Mock Trial Competition, where he reached the semi-final. He also won the Blackstone's Mooting Competition.

Christopher received an Exhibition from University College, Oxford and the Bastow Scholarship from City Law School. He has been awarded the Lincoln's Inn Hardwicke Scholarship, the Buchanan Prize, the Lord Denning Scholarship and the Megarry Pupillage Scholarship.
