Expertise

Professional Discipline

Christopher's practice is primarily focused on professional disciplinary work. In terms of healthcare regulation he regularly prosecutes and defends in the General Medical Council, General Dental Council, General Optical Council, General Pharmaceutical Council, General Chiropractic Council and the Nursing and Midwifery Council. He has also appeared before internal disciplinary proceedings.

Outside of healthcare, Christopher has appeared in numerous cases before the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants, and the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors.

He has a significant High Court appellate practice. Whilst he has represented the regulator in the High Court, he primarily appears for or advises registrants on the merits of appealing.

Inquests

Allied to his professional disciplinary work, Christopher enjoys a significant coronial practice. He has represented NHS Trusts and care homes, as well as individual nurses and doctors in a wide variety of different inquests. He has considerable experience in respect of both Article 2 inquests and jury inquests.
